Butter Shipments to United States

Saskatchewan Product is Shipped by the Carload to Points South of the Line

For the first time in the past two or three years the Saskatchewan Cooperative Creameries, Limited, is shipping butter in carload lots direct to cities in the United States. A carload shipment was recently made from Saskatchewan to Philadelphia. Two carloads were also shipped to Chicago, where they realized good prices. Each car contained between 15,000 and 20, 000 lbs. of Saskatchewan butter.

LOWERED VITALITY

A Condition Following Indoor Confinement
of Winter

There are very few people who do not need a tonic at this season of the year. The reason for this is that whether in the home, the office or the factory, people have been living throughout the long winter months in an atmosphere more or less vitiated, and as a result find themselves not up to their summer-time health. Through the long months of winter your blood has been growing thin and poor.
Closer confinement and lack of exercise have used it up and exhausted it.
You are not as energetic as you could wish. Your work three years ago, perhaps your digestion is gone too good.
Your nerves may be shaky and your appetite poor. All these things point to poverty of the blood. It is a scientific fact that if the blood of the strongest is tested in the spring there is less of it and it is poorer than it was in September. The spring medicines of our grandmothers—sage and mint, and the like—recognized the necessity for aid at this season, but were an inadequate attempt to cleanse the blood. Modern medical science has found a better way. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new, rich blood at the first dose and at every dose afterwards. Thus they strengthen every organ of the body and give new vitality to the faded system. Here is proof. Miss Clara Cheslock, High Falls, Que., says:—
"I was in a much run-down condition and my blood was thin and poor. I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I must thank you for the good they did me. I never enjoyed better health than I have since I took them."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at $1.00 a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"Worth $100 to Me Relieved Eczema and Piles"

Mrs. Peter A. Palmer, Salisbury, N.H., writes:

"Dr. Chase's Ointment has completely relieved me of eczema and piles. I also used this Ointment for my baby, who broke out in eczema. A few applications were all that was necessary to her cure. Dr. Chase's Ointment has been worth a hundred dollars to me. Before using it I had spent a great deal more than that in unsuccessful treatment from doctors. We have all used Dr.
Chase's other medicines, the Nerve Food having restored my health after suffering from severe nervous trouble when a girl."

Super Class Used As Drug

Sold in Great Britain For Forty-Three Cents a Pound

"As you pour a little sugar in your tea or coffee, did you ever stop to think that one time it was used as a drug, and is now forty-three cents a pound?"

This was one of the main topics in a lecture given in the Technical Science Club of the Edmonton Technical School, by A. F. Lehmann, professor of chemistry at the University of Alberta, when he spoke on sugar.
Professor Lehmann told of the first use for sugar being in India and China, and how it was later taken to Great Britain where it was at first used as a drug. Why it was used this way and the quantity consumed at each dose is not known, he said. A large cargo in those days consisted of fifty tons sold at forty-three cents a pound.

The speaker described the sugar as being stored in the stem of the plant, which was similar to the Indian corn.
The plant has no seed but is sprouted with slips from the cane. It is harvested yearly and Dr. Lehmann said the sugar from the best, the maple tree and the cane were just the same,
the only difference being in the percentage. He mentioned that the importation in the maple sugar was pleasing to the taste, but those in the best and the cane were nasty. Thus great pains had to be taken in the refining of these sugars, especially in the case of the best.

at $5,001,500. In addition to wools and Since 1922, the three provinces of Canada, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, a territory which five million people live, has been pulling further away into the rural straits, recorded a substantial increase in buller's population and further consolidation of its position in the dairy industry. Comparing the year 1922 with 1927, the increase in the number of farmers' herds in Manitoba amounts to 1.2 per cent, in Saskatchewan to 22.1 per cent, and in Alberta to 12.1 per cent.

The earlier production of Manitoba in 1923 amounted to 10,730,126 pounds as compared with 16,539,091 pounds in 1922 and 8,941,092 in 1921. That of Saskatchewan in 1923 was 16,967,676 pounds, compared with 8,901,111 pounds in 1922 and 7,040,098 in 1921. Alberta's production rose from 12,329,261 pounds in 1921 to 14,437,076 pounds in 1922 and 17,750,899 in 1923. Production in the three provinces taken together in the past three years is as follows: 1921, 26,990,421; 1922, 34,087,416; 1923, 39,987,104 pounds.

The rapid ascendancy of the practice recently in a supreme sense in the Canadian dairy industry has been one of the most marked phases of the Dominion's agriculture in the past decade. It is the result of the most serious attention paid to the industry. The adoption of modern methods and the pursuit of most modern care. It is the result of more profitable diversified farming. In its wake have come improved dairy cattle, which the west has almost developed and that which there are still superior in Canada.

The rumpled progress, which has been made in dairy production is only realized in a comparison with past years. Going back to the beginning of the post-war decade, the production in the three prairie provinces in 1935 was 1,161,947 pounds, or less than half of the 1950 production of 2,398,755 pounds. In 1932 the same territory produced nearly 1,000,000, or practically ten times as much. Alberta increased its production from 182,478 to 17,550,694 pounds. Saskatchewan from 228,755 pounds to 10,867,614 pounds; and Manitoba from 874,713 pounds to 10,789,156 pounds.

With a production in excess of domestic consumption, the high quality of Prairie butter, consistently made, has established a ready entry for it in foreign markets, and large quantities now find their way to the United States and across the Atlantic. In 1923 Manitoba exported 145 carloads of creamy butter containing 2,863,264 pounds, which found its way as far as Eastern Canada, but to the United Kingdom, Chicago and New York. Saskatchewan's export of butter in 1923 amounted to 2,178,577 pounds, or 344 per cent. of the 1914 production. Of this only 34 carloads went, the remainder of 213 carloads going to Eastern Canada, the United States and British Columbia.

Gratifying reports concerning the quality of Manchurian tea and its suitability for the best British tea were received from a number of British doctors. During the year the port of Algodra shipped its first tea to the United Kingdom via the Panama Canal, and this was received with entire satisfaction, according to the report of the Canadian Trade Commissioner. Four thousand boxes were forwarded in this manner, received in excellent condition, and found a profitable market.

Dairying is perhaps the most advanced phase of Western Canadian farming at the present time, heralding a new era in the agriculture of the prairie. The number of dairies in Alberta is now 75, having increased in this number from 54 in 1927. In Saskatchewan there are 95 dairies, and in an approximately equal number in Manitoba. They have changed the face of the western landscape, transforming pastures of dairy cattle with fields of wheat and oats, and adding in a substantial measure to the improvement of Western Canadian agriculture.

The home of the chestnut is in the Mediterranean region, where wild nut trees have been cultivated for over 5,000 years.

Date of Report or Blotting to be Recorded
None

The sale of the Indian antiquities plant at Spenhall, Sask., in which $1,500,000 has been spent by the Federal Government and the Provincial Governments of Manitoba and Alberta, is to be decided within the next few weeks.

During his stay in Ottawa, Hon. A. G. Gardiner, minister of highways in the Saskatchewan Government, had a conference with Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of interior, with a view to discussing the future of this investment. It was announced after the conference that nothing had been agreed upon, but that a policy would be announced in the immediate future.

Manitoba was concerned in the proposition to the extent of $250,000 during 1933. However, the Manitoba Government withdrew from the scheme on grounds of economy, and since that time the research work has been carried by a successive succession by the other two governments.

Final work, however, was not done at the Montreal plant, but at Hudson, N.Y., where the United States authorities have set up a research plant for similar responses. The Canadian authorities shipped to Hudson a quantity of Rankinbrosnan Ergin, which was torched and bequeathed successfully. The product was shipped back to the government, revealing a share, and subsequently tests proved that the briquet was a low-rate fuel. The difficulty, however, is that the cost of bequeathing is so great as to make the discovery of very little economical value.

Automobile production in Canada during 1933 was valued at $61,958,477 which is a considerable increase over the previous year, when the output was valued at $51,446,573, according to a report issued by the Federal Bureau of Statistics. A large and increasing part of this volume of business is for export. In 1932, $2,040,191 worth of automobiles and trucks were shipped abroad to practically every civilized country on the globe.

Waters and H

The problem of the increasing number who arrive in Canada with little or no capital is occupying the full settlement branch of the department of immigration just now. A statement issued by Hon. J. A. Robt. says that several surveys of the situation in Canada have disclosed that in many communities there are houses equipped with habitable buildings which had to be sold in very small lots, payments of

In many cases there are settlers in the same district who are willing to lend machinery to newcomers in exchange for natural labor. By taking advantage of these circumstances it is believed that the road will be opened to a considerable number of British and European settlers with a knowledge of agriculture who formerly hesitated with little capital at this stage.

The land settlement branch of the immigration department was reconstituted to direct new settlers to lands where they have the best chance of success, to assign them from exploitation, in the purchase price of lands and to facilitate the placing of immigrants of both sexes in farm colonization.

The statement of the minister of Immigration says that the interest of the head of the branch will not terminate when the settler is satisfactorily located, but the branch will continue to exercise friendly assistance at least as it is needed. It is particularly emphasized that the work of the branch extends to all Canada and not merely to Western Canada.

One peculiar problem confronting the land settlement branch is the disposition of settlers on land that may have the benefit of settlement. His with people of their own tongue and race and yet to diffuse European settlers in such a way as to secure their absorption into Canadian life and their understanding of the Canadian point of view.

The scratch is hollow inside, as is side for auto and attorney workmen. lawsuits are being filed in many districts, so much so the credibility of the funds and forced the department to raise a fall price for them. These lawsuits also will promote community welfare work, trying to prevent the overruling of any particular district and to provide a helpful guideline for others.

Through the branch's field staff special hospitals will be given in community welfare organizations," says Mr. Robb's statement, "and every doctor will be made to extend to the new land settlers not only a friendly welcome, but practical guidance in initial operations to overcome the inevitable difficulties awaiting the homesteader. This guidance and direction will be continued as long as it is found necessary. It is to be a service organization, permeated with a desire to assist the homing settlers and to make him as speedily as possible into a prosperous Canadian citizen. Permeated with sentiment of the important in the keeping of the 'policy'."

The land settlement branch recently formed will be a new factor in the solution of farm employment problems. The branch will make a survey of farm labor requirements and seek to meet them by placing farm grants as well as directing the settlement of headgrants who wish to take up their own farms on period.

Field officers of the land settlement branch will seek to place to the best advantage all immigrant laborers, and an immediate result of last fall's surveys by the branch is that it has more applications from Canadian farmers for laborers than it is able to present to Canada.

The branch will see particularly in placing advantageously those who come to Canada under the simplified passport scheme. A considerable movement of Britons to Canada (as far as is anticipated within the next six weeks). There is also to witness a considerable immigration from the Irish Free State, which will share in the reduced rates arranged for the Irish from Great Britain and Ireland to Canada. The Irish Free State, however, being a separate country with the British Empire and not affiliated with the British Government in the financial arrangements for carrying out the British-Canadian simplified passport scheme, does not come within the provision of the simplified passport scheme.

Total Value of Catch for 1983: GIVE $ - 25,000.00

The total value of the commercial output of industries of the prairie provinces for 1925 was $1,745,915, comprising $1,039,535 for Manitoba, $286,900 for Saskatchewan, and $419,475 for Alberta.

All at the provinces show increases in value of production, the total increase over the previous year amounting to $166,583, or 17 per cent. The total value of production, which had contributed 25 per cent, each to the total, is now 26 per cent., wheat, 1 per cent., and tobacco, 5 per cent.

The collection of the United Tax
Gey. in 1972 had a value of $11.9

ly of the waters. This "monster" was caught last year by Mrs. W. K. Deane, of Tarpeyton, F.C. in Fagan Lake, one of the chain. The fish weighed over 55 pounds, was 51 inches long and 18 inches in girth. Mr. Deane declined to be photographed and Dr. W. K. Twiss, who is also a resident doctor in Keweenaw Lake, states that he will handle the monster himself after having obtained a Doctor's License. As this is not an unusual catch it is not hard to understand the sensation of "Fagan Waters."

It was well into the silent hour of midnight when final preparations were made for the advance on the banding camp. Their plans were laid. They tightened and fixed up their saddle girths, and lay to the security of all the fastenings. Then, with their firearms loaded and ready for action, they started on their way. Ronald leading and the other closely following behind. Increased precautions were taken the nearer they approached the vicinity of the camp. In this way they continued their advance until, through the opening in the trees, they could distinguish the small open place wherein the tent was located. At a signal from the leader, they stopped to take careful note of the ground. They could hear the horses grazing and stamping close by. Beyond their temporary pasture there was no sign to indicate the close presence of the outlaws. All was quiet. Satisfied that all was safe, and that no sound had yet betrayed their presence, Ronald proceeded to carry his scheme of advance into effect.

Signaling his companion to stop where he was, he took his position beside his horse and quietly urged him forward. Finally emerging into the open space, and using his horse as cover, for his own color blended well with the surroundings, he gradually worked his way on, carefully guiding his horse in the desired direction as he allowed him occasionally to pull at a tuft of grass at his feet. A few yards beyond and slightly to the right was the tent, now distinguishable in the darkness. With his eyes now well accustomed to the darkness, he, on closer inspection, made out the form of the man on guard as he reclined in front of the tent. Just ahead of him two horses were grazing on the space between, and, using them as additional cover, he continued to slowly advance step by step. When he was within ten yards or so of the reclining man, he was started to see him suddenly look up and take a look around the grounds. Effectually screened behind the horse, he still hoped to escape detection, but yet

PAINS IN BACK AND SIDES

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindsay, Ontario.—"I used to have very bad pains in my back and sides and often was not fit to do my work. I tried many medicines before I began to take yours. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the 'Toronto Globe' and now that it has helped me I recommend it to all of my neighbors. I keep it in the house all the time and take it once in a while no matter how well I feel, for one course of prevention is worth a pound of cure."
—CHRISTINE CAMPBELL, 13 St. Paul St., Lindsay, Ontario.

To do any kind of work—and you know there is much to be done—is next to impossible if you are suffering from some form of female trouble. It may cause your back to ache or a pain in your side; it may make you nervous and irritable. You may be able to keep up and succeed, but you do not feel good.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for women. It is especially adapted to relieve the cause of these troubles, and restore them to normal health.

he waited with revolver in hand ready to shoot immediately in case of discovery. After taking a look around, and then gazing into the tent, the man, apparently satisfied that all was well, resumed his former position, and, to a short time, again seemed dead to his surroundings.

During this time, while Ronald remained stationary, a new idea turned in his mind. Reaching over into his saddle pack, he pulled out an Indian "slung shot," or "billy," a weapon he had picked up after the General Middleton forces had captured Hatoche, and which he was keeping as a souvenir. Quickly slipping this weapon on to his wrist by means of a loop attached to its raw hide handle, he again commenced to slowly advance towards the tent. All at once his attention was attracted by a figure stealthily creeping through the tent opening. Surprised at this new turn in events, and fearing to give a warning, he stood still and watched it as it crept farther and farther through the opening. Slowly as the figure emerged, it arose, first on hands and knees, then, with the right hand upturned, to a crouching position, in an attitude ready for attack, the threatened victim being the prostrate man in front. At this instant, as if subconsciously sensing a new danger, the girl, for it was none other, turned her head towards her hidden rescuer. Seeing him her figure relaxed, and she slowly collapsed without uttering a sound, and lay prostrate.

Ronald knew that the crisis had come, and that further delay was dangerous. He covered the distance that separated him from the reclining man with the silence and swiftness of a plover. With unerring aim he landed him a blow on the head with his "billy" and the man rolled over unconscious, uttering a low moan. Swiftly taking hold of the arm of the prostrate girl, he raised her to her feet. "Seeing that she was conscious, he placed his revolver into her hand, gave her the bridle reins of his own horse, and whispering into her ear, he told her that her father was nearby and to go to him. Then, taking a look in the direction of the other sleeping men, and noting that they were still undisturbed, he rolled the unconscious man off the saddle, took his revolver and, picking up his saddle, he swiftly and noiselessly placed it on the back of one of the horses grazing beside him. Lastly, as if inspired by a new idea, he went calmly and quickly about and cut loose, one by one, the remaining horses in the band. He then mounted the one he was leading and drove them back over the trail they had come. At the point where the trail ascended the hill, Mr. Fraser, with his rescued daughter, even in their agitation, commanded sufficient presence of mind to turn them on to the trail leading up the side of the hill. Quickly following at the head of the horses, they were soon out of danger on the level prairie above. The sound of firearms in the valley below warned them that the bandits had discovered their loss—too late.

CHAPTER IV.

The sun had risen in the north-east and its warm rays had dried the dew on the grass by the time the three weary travellers, Fraser, his rescued daughter, and Ronald MacRae arrived at the broken stretch of prairie that had been used the previous day as their way south. Suffering from the reaction and the weariness due to the exertions and excitement of the previous thirty-six hours, they decided to yield to nature's demands for rest and relaxation. They took advantage of this suitable location to make a break or two or three hours in their journey and enjoy a much needed rest. They accordingly dismounted and tethered their riding horses, while the remaining horses were allowed to range at large in the vicinity. On the shady side of a clump of bushes, blankets were spread on the grass. The provisions, of which there was a plentiful supply in their haversacks, were produced and preparations made to enjoy their first real meal.

While Mary spread out the contents of the haversacks, Ronald produced from his pack his army service tin and brewed some tea on a small fire made from twigs gathered from the surrounding brush. As they partook of their early morning breakfast, conversation seemed constrained, each one seemed absorbed in deep thought and contemplation of the dangers through which they had passed in the last few hours. Such conversation as took place was carried on in monosyllables. To Ronald the constraint of the silence during the time they were eating was depressing. Fragrant as the occasion was with topics for discussion, he could not command the resourcefulness to start up a spirited conversation. Failing thus, he continued his breakfast in silence, at the same time kept in admiration of the strangely attired young woman, whose enforced adventure so unexpectedly turned him aside from the course of his journey.

The constraint may have been due to the weariness induced by the reaction following their exciting experiences, but it, nevertheless, added an embarrassing feature to the situation that also added to the discomfort of the young man. The fact that she owed her rescue to the skill and exertions of the young man, and he a total stranger, was no less embarrassing to the young woman. That she owed a debt of unfeigned gratitude to him for what he had done on her behalf was of no deeper significance to her than the great pleasure it afforded him to have been placed in the position of being able to give her his assistance in the time of need. Thus the barrier of constraint stood between them during the course of their first meal together. Mr. Fraser, deeply absorbed in his own thoughts, seemed disinclined to break the silence.

After they had had their breakfast, and were for some time trying to recompose on the ground enjoying a rest, Mary, at last, broke the silence by asking her father what he thought would become of the horse thieves now that they were deprived of their horses. Mr. Fraser, who had been very little thought to the predicament in which they were placed, said: "I don't know, and I don't care, so long as we have saved you from their clutches. But, if the Mounted Police should come across them they will take care of them as they would have some trouble in explaining to them how they happen to be travelling over the country on foot. To my way of thinking, hanging would be a more deserving fate for these rascals than the prison life."

"Father, don't you think that hanging is too severe a penalty for horse stealing?"

"Horse stealing!" he said, "the common penalty in their own country is shooting at sight, or hanging without a trial when caught. But when, in addition, they add to that the stealing of young women and carrying them away by force, I don't know what punishment would be inflicted; perhaps they would be tortured, then hanged."

"But, father, only one of those men knew I was a woman. Would I should like to see him caught and punished, yet I think that shooting, or hanging, would be a dreadful punishment. He has done me no real harm nor injury, and now that we have our horses back again, it is not so bad. I think the rest of the gang had enough punishment in the loss of their horses. Don't you think so Mr. MacRae?"

Ronald, thus appealed to for the first time, offered into the discussion by saying: "Miss Fraser, it is sometimes hard to decide on the justice or injustice of the severity of punishments inflicted for various crimes. But, according to the code of justice of western pioneer life, horse stealing is considered one of the most serious crimes, even on a par with murder itself."

"Why should it be considered a more serious crime in the west than in the east? Stealing a horse is not as bad as killing a man."

"It is," Miss Fraser, "because human life depends so much on the service of horses, that, in many ways, to be forcibly deprived of the use of them means the life or death of those who depend on them. This is not the case in thickly settled districts. There law and order is administered and enforced by the proper authorities, and, where life is not so dependent on the services of the horse, it is looked upon as an ordinary case of theft, and is punished as such."

"But why," she added, "should people take the law in their own hands? Why not let the proper authorities administer the law and punish for crimes?"

"It is because of the difficulties of administering the law in large unsettled territories that the people, feeling the lack of protection, take the law into their own hands and deal summarily in handing out what justice is due, according to their common code, to horse thieves and other offenders."

"I don't know, Mr. MacRae, but it seems to me that laws of that kind, and enforced in that way, would be in many cases drastic and unjust. So many might be wrongly accused, and innocent people suffer punishment and, perhaps death, without a chance of proving their innocence."

"What you say is quite true," Miss Fraser. "To those of us, who are protected and are accustomed to the ordinary procedure of law in such cases, the punishment may seem drastic and unjust. But, on the other hand, to those who live surrounded by the dangers of an unsettled country, remote from the proper administration of law and order, it seems to them to be the only effective way of handing out swift justice to a dangerous class of criminals."

"But, Mr. MacRae, are we not responsible for endangering the lives of those 'horse rustlers' in cutting loose and driving their horses away last night? Don't we leave them to perish on the open prairie with no means of getting back to safety? If they should perish on the prairie, would we not be held responsible for their death?"

"In doing that we are guilty of no offence against the law. Those men are outlaws. They are not only guilty of horse stealing, but also of the more serious crime of kidnapping. To avoid capture they would, without a moment's hesitation, have committed murder. In attempting to escape from them they would have shot you had we not rescued you by strategy."

Empire-on-the-Rhine

Germany Said to Have a House That is 1,300 Years Old

One of the oldest homes in Europe is the home of Count Matuschke Grefenknabe, in the hamlet of Winkel, Germany, near Bingen-on-the-Rhine. The building is estimated to be at least 1,300 years old. It antedates any structure standing in Germany today, and it is said there are not many in all of Europe that has weathered more years than this old structure. Klabans, Meursh, Archbishop of Mainz, who died in 844, is the first owner of the building, according to the records available. Count Grefenknabe has asked scientists to interest themselves in the building in the hope of arriving at its age.

Save Fuel in Cooking

The illustration shows an interesting test you should try in your own kitchen. It proves the superiority of good enameled ware for cooking purposes. Take an SMP Enameled Ware Sauce Pan, and a sauce pan of equal size made of aluminum, tin or other metal. Into each pour a quart of cold water. Set both sauce pans over the fire. The water in the SMP Enameled Ware Sauce Pan will be boiling merrily in about five minutes, while the water in the all-metal sauce pan will come to the boil in about eight minutes—three minutes longer. Save fuel in cooking. Use

GERMANY HAS ACCEPTED THE EXPERTS' REPORT

Paris.—The German Government has accepted the experts' reports as a practical basis for a solution of the reparations problem. The reply of the German Government was headed to the reparations commission and there was much enthusiasm at reparations headquarters when it became known that Germany would collaborate with the commission in the settlement of this most difficult problem on the basis set forth by the experts.

France, Great Britain, Belgium and Germany now have announced their acceptance of the experts' reports and Italy's acceptance is expected soon.

Already there appears to be a distinction, if not a difference, between the interpretation of the German reply by the reparations commission and the German delegation. The latter says the acceptance means that negotiations will be necessary in which Germany will have an equal footing with the others. The British prime minister's acceptance is regarded here as virtually unconditional, while Premier Poincaré's reference to the report needing touching up is held to be a forerunner of various reservations.

The differences do not appear to be such that they cannot be overcome and optimism is increased by the fact that a "speedy solution" is the keynote of the various acceptances.

The German reply to the reparations commission's communication is regarded in reparations commission circles as a real basis for settlement of the reparations question and going fully as far as the commission expected.

Canada Is in Need Of More Publicity

Montreal.—There is nothing the matter with Canada. What Canada really needs is a lot of publicity," said Lord Rothermere, well-known newspaper proprietor, in summarizing here his experiences during his brief stay in the Dominion. He added: "I am seriously considering, on my return to England, placing three or four 'star' newspapers on the job of selling England something about Canada."

Group Settlement

Ottawa.—British settlers are to be located on lands owned by the Canadian National Railways in groups of 20 families, under an arrangement entered into by the railway and the Overseas Settlement Committee of the colonial office, under the British Empire Settlement Act, it was stated in the House of Commons.

The Canadian National undertakes to have advanced an amount not to exceed £100 to enable the settlers to purchase stock and equipment, and the British secretary of state guarantees payment of the full amount of any loss incurred through such advances, but the total guarantee will not exceed 50 per cent. of the total amount advanced to all settlers.

Earthquake Disturbances

Earth Tremors Reported From Many Points Believed to be Submarine

London.—The reports from widely separated parts of the world of a great earthquake have received an elucidation here, but in the absence of definite news as to the locality or localities affected it is assumed that the phenomenon was submarine.

There were local shocks in Switzerland and Italy, but no serious damage was reported. There has been no recurrence in England of the tremors of April 1 and April 2. London itself is outside the area which occasionally feels slight shocks. These disturbances usually occur in the North Midland and eastern counties.

Trail Smelter Can Handle All Ores Says Mining Official

Nelson, B.C.—Commenting on the phase of the smelter agitation for a smelter based on the proposition that Trail Smelter has almost reached its limit, an official of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada made the statement that the export of zinc concentrates and of lead bullion from the Trail Smelter to Europe is only temporary, and is strictly pending the completion of the power extension at Bonington before made by the West Kootenay Power and Light Company, the Trail corporation's subsidiary. There is no thought of shutting off the handling of customs ore and concentrates.

Russia Taking Her Time

Will Not Enter Into Married Agreement With Britain

Moscow.—Russia will not be hurried into any agreement with Great Britain on the ground that the MacDonald Government might not endure prolonged negotiations, declared M. Zimov, chairman of the executive committee of the Third International, speaking on behalf of that body.

"Substantial interest will be paid for substantial credits," said Zimov, "but Russia is not going to pay England a half-million pounds because she considers England owes Russia more than this."

Prisoner Starved to Death The Hague.—A case which strikingly illustrates the inhumanity of arrests in some parts of Holland, is reported. A man arrested about the end of March, in a little town near Utrecht, has just been found dead of starvation in his cell, the authorities having forgotten that they had a prisoner.

Corporal Punishment In the British Navy

London.—Whipping of boys in the navy with a birch, for disciplinary purposes, will not be abolished, declared Charles Amson, Parliamentary Secretary of the Admiralty, in reply to a question in the House of Commons. Such punishments in the navy are not abolished for certain serious offences. When he went to the Admiralty, Secretary Amson said, he made enquiries on the matter and he found there had only been six cases since 1917 of offences of all serious. Most of the boys were "made good," whereas in previous cases of insubordination for offences the boys had "gone bad."

Britain Willing To Discuss Disarmament

Premier Says General Conference of Powers Is Desirable

London.—Prime Minister MacDonald, responding to a speech in the Commons by Major-General J. E. B. Seely, former president of the Air Council, who advocated that the Premier call an international conference for disarmament, declared he would welcome an invitation by any other power to take up the whole question of disarmament.

The Prime Minister, while emphasizing that a general conference on disarmament was desirable, declared it was of "great" importance that there be no reason for misunderstanding between Great Britain and France.

"It is most important that that should be so," he said. His statement on British relations with France was coupled with a reference to "the unfortunate air race that has already begun."

Heavy Stocks of Grain

Quantity of Grain in Canada, Except Rye, Is Greater Than Last Year

Ottawa.—On March 21, 1924, the quantity of wheat in Canada was 204,492,000 bushels, as compared with 139,758,000 bushels in 1923, according to returns received by the Federal Bureau of Statistics. The following are the totals for coarse grains and rye.

Oats, 283,514,000 bushels, compared with 181,715,000 bushels in 1923.

Barley, 29,119,000 as compared with 25,129,000.

Rye, 8,224,000 as compared with 5,525,000.

Flax, 1,245,000 as compared with 1,742,000.

B.C. Lumber For Britain

Wade, agent-general for British Columbia, will be asked to accept a plan of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce to secure for British Columbia a share of the business offered by the contemplated building of 2,500,000 houses in the British Isles. ## JAPAN HOTLY RESENTS THE U.S. EXCLUSION ACT

Tokyo.—The Japanese Chamber representing the Empire, declared editorially that the action of the United States Congress in passing the exclusion legislation amounts to a challenge to Japan. It says the nation must prepare for whatever may come, even war.

The Japanese demands the immediate resignation of the ministry. Numerous public bodies, including the Associated Chambers of Commerce in Japan, the American-Japan Society, and the Japan Economic Society have called urgent meetings to discuss the immigration situation.

Officials do not deny the probability of unpleasant popular reactions, and it is fully expected that the opposition will make all possible political capital from the government's immigration defeat. The action of Congress comes as a blow in the heat of an election campaign throughout Japan.

Infamously campaign speeches, public indignation meetings, resolutions and bitter editorials, are all expected as an aftermath of Washington's exclusion legislation.

The government, however, is determined to take a vigorous stand against any policy of retaliation. It asserts it will do its utmost to curb popular indignation and maintain the fullest possible friendly relations with the United States.

Washington.—The Senate put itself formally on record on the question of Japanese exclusion by re-adopting the Shortridge exclusion amendment to the Immigration Bill 54 to 4.

I finally went off our druggist and purchased three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and derived immediate relief from their use, and I can truthfully say they are a wonderful medicine. I always keep a box on hand, and if I feel out of sorts I take a few pills and feel all right again."

CANADA'S NATIONAL PLAYGROUND

CANADIANS are fortunate in their National Parks, in that they have within their borders Alpine scenery which is not equalled anywhere on the continent, and more and more they are realizing that holidays in Canada hold for the lover of out-of-doors
all the thrills that could be found anywhere in the world. Jasper National Park in the Canadian Rockies, contains many high peaks, sternly snow-capped, and on the sides of the mountains are glaciers which have stood the test of ages.
Millions of tons of ice, stretching in some instances almost as far as the eye can see, line the adventurous climber to new attempts, while in the calm, peaceful valleys with game of all kinds live at peace with mankind and the world.

Additional bungalows for the accommodation of guests are to be erected at Jasper Park Lodge, the top-cabin hostelry of the Canadian National Railways at Jasper National Park, in time for the opening of the 1924 season. It is announced by officials of the Hotel Department, Canadian National Railways. During last season the popularity of Jasper National Park was so great that the capacity of Jasper Park Lodge was taxed, and the additional bungalows being provided this year will take care of almost fifty per cent. more guests.

Four 4-room bungalows, each room with bath, and two 12-room bungalows, each room also having private bath, are being erected. In addition, a double-deck bus-house, with the upper floor for conventions, and dancing, is being constructed, and an octagonal corridor building is being built near the main Lodge. Four new buildings are being erected to serve as employees' quarters, the kitchens are being extended and the main lounge is being extended to provide for a ladies' reception room and for a men's billiard and card room.

Concrete Railway Ties

Will Resist Wear As Well As Wooden Ones

Concrete railway ties, used on a section of a right-of-way in Northwestern India, have proved to resist wear and weather equally as well as wooden ones, according to a report. It is believed their employment will result in great savings of lumber and labor, since they will not require replacing as frequently as the timber. The concrete beam consists of two blocks tied together with steel straps. The rails are fastened on by means of spikes driven into treated-wood plugs set in the concrete. — Popular Mechanics.

Pain In the Muscles, Stiffness In Joints, Quickly Subdued By Nerviline

Those who have tested our famous Nerviline will agree that where something is needed to dislodge a deep-seated, more or less chronic condition, there is nothing to compare with Nerviline. ## SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

APRIL 27

AMOS AND HEBEA PLEADING FOR RIGHTeousNESS

Golden Text.—Hate the evil, and love the good. Amos 5:15.
 Lesson.—Books of Amos and Hosea. Devotional Reading.—Isaiah 65:8-12.

The Year Explored and Illuminated
 1. The False Confidence of Balaam, Amos 5:13. The man of wealth and power in Judah were "at ease in Zion"; luxury had lulled them into a feeling of false security. The reference here to Balaam, Jerusalem, has been a stumbling block to many, since Amos preached exclusively to the Northern Kingdom. Dr. A. B. Peake suggests that a slight change in the Hebrew gives this rendering, "Woe to them that are at ease in (their) pride," and "to them that are secure in the mountains of Samaria," both expressions then referring to the rulers of Israel. "Their sense of security was not unshared. The nation was at peace, their own resources were abundant, and their God was manifestly favorable. The capital cities, both of Israel and Judah, were deemed, not without historical justification, to be well-nigh impregnable. In point of fact, Samaria, the capital of the Northern Kingdom, kept the besieging Assyrian army at bay for three years before she finally met the doom which Amos had pronounced upon her thirty years or so before; and a century and a half afterwards it took the Babylonians sixteen months to effect the capture of Jerusalem. Splendidly situated, both these cities were defended by the surrounding mountains; and both imagined themselves to be further secured, beyond the possibility of menace, by the good will and the protecting power of their God. As the mountains were round about Samaria and Jerusalem, so, they believed, would Jehovah be round about his people. Hence their confidence, which Amos derides, in the monument of Samaria. As we often happens, with this confidence went conceit" (McFadyen).

You never can tell. The fellow who goes out of his way to get you into a good thing will possibly hear nothing.

This way clever women resist the years

The simplest beauty secret known—but the most effective

Every day you see women well along in years, who still retain the charm of youthful, lovely skin. They are not unusually fortunate—just clever enough to resist the years!

They know and follow a simple method, which you may employ as successfully as they do. This tells you how.

Acquisitive nature skin. Cleanse the skin regularly, as theritias say, to keep your complexion lovely, radiant, youthful. But beware of harsh cleansing methods. They injure skin.

Wash thoroughly with Palmolive Soap—each night before retiring. Rub the creamy, foamy lather well into the dry pores. Rinse—and repeat the washing. Then rinse again.

Then, if skin is dry—apply a little cold cream. That is all. Skin so cared for is not injured by cosmetics, by wind and sun, or by dirt.

Palmolive and efficiency produce the quality for 10c

Short Course in Pig Production

University of Saskatchewan held Short Course attended by Many Swine Breeders

Lectures and practical demonstrations on different phases of the industry were given. Judging competitions by which hogs were judged before and after being slaughtered was one of the features.

SATISFIED MOTHERS

No other medicine gives so great satisfaction to mothers as does Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets are equally good for the newborn babe or the growing child and are absolutely safe. They cannot possibly do harm—always good. The Tablets are mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and thus relieve baby of any of the minor ills of childhood such as constipation, indigestion, colic, etc. Concerning them Mrs. Arthur Filson, St. Sylvester, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets have been of wonderful benefit to my baby who was suffering from constipation and indigestion. I always keep the Tablets on hand and would advise all mothers to do likewise." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Cuts Millions Yearly

Great Need for Safety of Railways is Expensive

While big figures are used in selling the cost of safety to the railways, the amazing thing is the average penny in the amount spent for sand. Four tons are required for every mile of road in the United States, amounting to the figure of one ton per mile with 7,000 miles of track. In this road is in the middle west and south, where mountains are not encountered, the figures given are regarded as conservative. The cost of putting the sand into the engine bed is placed at $2.50 a ton as an average minimum. For all the roads, the yearly cost is estimated at $2,037,079. For the most part the sand is brought from river bottoms and dried by waste steam at the road house. — Popular Mechanics.

Northern Lights Nearly Stripped
 Protracted researches into the nature of the Aurora Borealis known as the "Northern Lights," lead Professor Vegard of Christiania University to believe that its essential character is nitrogen, and say that the green line which is the chief feature of it consists of small particles of frozen nitrogen in the highest part of the atmosphere. This line appears when frozen nitrogen is exposed to electric rays.

Little Unemployment in Alberta
 Due to demand for spring labor, there has been a considerable decrease in unemployment in Alberta. The number of unemployed at the end of the second week in March being added to be 181, which is the lowest figure for some years. This means that there is less than one person per thousand of population of the province of Alberta out of work.

An Oil without Alcohol.—Some oils and many medicines have alcohol as a prominent ingredient. A judicious blending of six essential oils composed Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and there is no alcohol in it, so that its effects are lasting.

 Government advances to soldier settlers for seed grain and relief are revealed in moving to a question in the Ottawa house. They comprise $1,000,000 for seed, $100,000 for relief, $500,000 for livestock, $100,000 for clothing, and $100,000 for dwelling. The board has spent $20,000 on roads in soldier settlements.

A French chemist is making a wood more firm and beautiful than oak or mahogany by mixing certain chemicals, chalk and cheap chemicals together and subjecting them to high pressure. The product can be made to take a high polish and is virtually fireproof. We get wood in making lumber and then we make lumber from wood, but how long can this thing keep up? ### Sporting Notes.

Spruce Grove ball club held its reorganization meeting and intends putting a strong team on the diamond the coming season. An effort is also being made to enter the club in the league which embraced Stony and Evansburg last season.

The claim is made that the Grosbeak ball players, as already aligned, will give the best of the teams in the league a good run for the honors.

The players have been assured a good banking from the Spruce Grove sports. Following is a list of the probable players, all of whom have had considerable experience on the ball field.

Ph and Jan Miller, Albert Rice, Herman Luedrich, A. Ross, Pat and Othello Sevard, Louis Simon, Harold and Charles Rogers.

Bill Bonzer, the well known sportman, returned last week from Hagglyville. Bill had put in the winter managing a hockey team at Tapscott, B.C., the aforesaid team winning every game till the club ran out of ice. ### Treit Case Settled.

Mrs. Justina Treit was awarded $1500 and a life interest in the home of her deceased husband as her share in his estate by Mr. Justice Ives in the Supreme Court last week.

She brought an application before the court to have the amount which she had subscribed under her late husband's will increased, being by claim on her rights under the Widows' Relief Act and the Dower Act.

Mrs. Treit alleged that proceedings had been shown in the will to the children of her husband's first wife, and that she had only received $400 as her share of a ten thousand dollar estate.

Mrs. Treit, the applicant, was represented by K. C. McKinnis.

Comet News

A delightful surprise party was held Friday evening last at the home of Mr and Mrs Mabel McKinlay, Comet, in honor of their daughters, Sam and Annie, and the latter's guests, the Misses Clara McDonald, Edna Mathews, and Cathleen McCook.

Music and games helped pass a very pleasant evening, which all thoroughly enjoyed. A dainty lunch was served about 11.30 to the assembled guests, in which the latter did ample justice.

Among those present were: The Misses Margaret Paul, Margaret Alexander, Mabel Clarke, Mabel Carr, Marjorie Anderson, Mary Danaher, Viola Mastry, Annie Kullander, Clara and Olga Ohlson, Karen Lawton, and Alice McKinlay.

Messrs. Clarence and Geo. Scott, Perry Lawton, Wilfrid Lawton, Ph. A. H. Durward Meyer, C. E. J. Lory, Jack Fielding, Glen Carmichael.

The new road grader for Mabel McKinlay's Division will arrive this week. The old one goes to Councillor Tattersall's Division. Some good repairs have already been made to the roads around Stony, and the Councillors of Divisions 1 and 2 are to be congratulated on their enterprise.

A crowd of dancers which filled the hall to capacity had a splendid time at Comet school on Friday evening. The music was excellent, and the usual fine routine of entertaining young ladies for which the district is noted was present on this occasion, and all hands had a very pleasant evening. The proceeds go to the Agricultural Society.

Two for the Price of One.

Once more we are in a position to offer our readers, ten papers for the price of one. A new subscriber or a renewal for The Sun includes a year's subscription to The Canadian Power Farmer. The Canadian Power Farmer is much appreciated by farmers who are enjoying it, and we feel sure they will be glad to read on such generous terms.
